For 33 years, the 'Sparta Ecumenical Food Pantry', has served our community with the generous support of community members who donate funds and food to our mission, and volunteers who kindly give of their time to help others.

Since COVID, the need of our community has grown exponentially, and the generosity of the community has grown right alongside with that need.

At this time our needs for space have expanded beyond the space that the First Presbyterian Church could make available for us to rent. We thank the church for their past and continued support, but we realized that it was time for a change.

Today we announce that we have a new name, a new address and a continued mission to give hope and healthy food to the people of Northern New Jersey that are struggling to put food on the table during difficult times.
